

The Episcopal Sunday School have a picnic today at the Peters Place above town.

Sheriff Carson and Deputy Sheriff McDowell each have handsome advertisements in this issue.

The lodge of colored Odd Fellows turned out Saturday to the burial of Anthony Carter, and made a very creditable appearance.

Union Sunday School concert in the Court House yard Friday night. The yard will be brilliantly illuminated by Chinese lanterns.

Write or see P. Layne, Emigrant agent, who will send you anywhere you want to go, quicker and cheaper than anyone. We know this to be true.

The following persons appeared in an exchange: Johnnie Brown is still in town; The trifling hound is looking round.

The fight over the Knoxville post office will cause the most exciting contest for Congress in the second district next year that those people have ever witnessed.

Jim Maleny shot and killed one Denham at Somerset, Ky., last Sunday evening. The fact was all about one woman. Maleny fled but has been captured.

Mr. Geo. Gurley, conductor on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad was married last week to Sophie Young, daughter of Col. Isham Young, of Knoxville.

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or falling. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

W. S. Donk, superintendent of public instruction is making arrangements for a State Normal School to be held at Knoxville during the summer, for the benefit of all the teachers of the State.

Col. Tom H. Reeves, of Jonesboro, has been appointed and confirmed U. S. Marshal for East Tennessee. We know Tom and can vouch for him being a clever fellow. Thomas, we extend to you our best wishes.

Ice Cream Saloon.
Geo. Hain calls the attention of the public to his Ice Cream Saloon, open day and night, and cream furnished in any quantity desired. 512 tf.

No person should think of mailing a letter unless they put on the envelope, "in haste." That always makes the train run faster; if no train is due in a short time the postmaster will always have it sent by special messenger.

The Chattanooga Commercial says the Ooltewah fellows come down now to get their whiskey since Ooltewah's corporation has been abolished. That's a joke on Ooltewah to think she would drink Chattanooga whiskey.

Mr. Calvin Douglass has presented this office with a fine lot of the largest and most delicious strawberries we have seen this season, for which he has our thanks. He gathered in two days last week 107 gallons from nine hundred vines. He says his whole crop will amount to over ten bushels.

We learn that Mr. Sam. Reese has purchased the lot West of the M. E. Church on Inman street and will shortly erect a handsome residence.

Mr. T. L. Cate, we hear, has given out the contract for building a residence on Ocoee street, on the lot recently purchased by him for that purpose.

Ice and Ice Cream.

Richard Kerr is now ready to furnish Ice Cream by the dish or by the quantity, and will deliver it whenever ordered. His Ice Cream Saloon will be open day and night. He is also prepared to furnish ice in any quantity, as he has bought the stock of ice put up by S. Y. Pierce at Waterville. 510 tf.

Gov. Hawkins has appointed on his staff Ernest Caldwell, of Shelbyville, commissary-general; Adair Diche, quartermaster-general.

Comptroller James N. Nolan says he will make no more relative to the injunction served on him to-day to restrain the funding board from funding the State debt until he shall hold a conference with State Treasurer M. T. Polk, now in New York, and Secretary of State D. A. Nunn, now at Brownsville.

Do you want to sell your Land?

If you go to L. L. Osmont, of this place who has been appointed Land Agent for the State, for the counties of Polk and Bradley, and have your land registered. The State pays the advertising bills. This is a cheap plan to sell land and every man who has any to dispose of should call and see Mr. Osmont.

We call attention to the advertisement of Hains' Restaurant and Bakery to be found in this issue. He has had his dining rooms refitted and carpeted and they present a neat and handsome appearance. Meals can be had at all hours of the day, ranging from 10 to 25 cents; also ice cream and lemonade always on hand. Besides these he has a first-class stock of family groceries and vegetables from the country. Goods purchased there are delivered to any part of the city free of charge. Give George a call when you want anything at bottom prices.

Good Horses Wanted.

Mr. Pryor Lee has closed out his fine Kentucky mares, and has opened a Livery Stable, and wants to buy a lot of horses suitable for such use. Call and see him.

Profit of Fish Raising.

Since the Legislature has enacted a stringent law there seems to be a hope of stocking the streams of Tennessee once more with fish. When the country was first settled every spring branch which ran throughout the year turned out a fine fish of every kind, indigenous to the climate. The indiscriminate slaughter so persistently followed has well nigh destroyed them until now there are but few in any part of the State—not even in the larger streams. Fish are so prolific, however, it requires but a short time to restock them so as to fill up all vacant places again. It is astonishing how rapidly they recover their number when not interfered with. A female will spawn from one to two million eggs in the spring. These eggs have numerous hereditary enemies to escape from. Small fish, frogs, snakes, crawfish feed on them voraciously.

and only the protecting care and watchfulness of both parents prevent their utter destruction. When those which escape are hatched out they are attacked again and continuously by fish of all species, and are it not for the tireless watchfulness of the parents, who swim back and forth over the spawn, which it deposited in the gravel underneath where they swim, they would be rapidly thinned out. Still they are able to survive their natural enemies and propagate rapidly. It is curious to note the rapidity with which they grow. A fish will grow with such rapidity that in one year from small fry they get to be large enough to eat. This encourages men to grow fish for diet as well as fun.

Mr. S. Y. Pierce is preparing to stock his two lakes at Waterville with the German carp. They are probably the most prolific and are the best for food. These may be placed in a large pond one year, and from being no larger than the little finger of a lady, they will get to be six or eight pounds in weight. Each year afterwards they increase and grow in an arithmetical progression, doubling each year, until at the end of five or six years, they are equal in size to a hog of ordinary dimensions.

There are very many spots in Tennessee capable of being converted into ponds. Depressions in the earth's surface, or valleys that by building a wall across from one hill to another, are changed into a good carp pond. These fish delight in still water or ponds, and grow with great rapidity when once started. A pond containing three or four acres will support several thousands of carp, and enough can be annually taken from it to bring a round sum of money. A family of moderate size can be supported in this manner by the sale of fish. In no other manner can the same amount of food be produced from the same amount of land. In Germany where ponds and marshes are the rule and but little cultivated land can be obtained, many families are supported alone on the proceeds of one pond. What man has done man may do again. Especially is this true of Tennessee where the banks of the streams are so low the waters break over, leaving bodies of water all along its course. These would be peculiarly suited for the business, and no more lucrative employment could be engaged in than raising carp. They grow to the enormous size of a hundred pounds, and the flesh is good, even in one so large. We make the suggestion to our people to make ponds if they have none, and grow fish as a diet and for sale. It will certainly pay, besides being fine sport.

Tax Payers.

4th July at Waterville.

Mr. S. Y. Pierce, proprietor of Waterville informs us that the 4th of July will be duly celebrated at that place. He is making arrangements to procure a cannon to fire salutes with at daybreak, noon and night.

The Eureka Brass Band are to furnish music for the occasion. The boats and swings are in first-class order, and also the bath house and bathing suits. Mr. Pierce is preparing for a crowd of five thousand and will be able to feed all that may not bring their dinners with them. There will be lemonade, ice cream, cigar and lunch stands on the grounds. The whole surrounding country is invited to attend.

Anthony Carter, a well known colored blacksmith of this city, died Friday morning last in his 88th year. He was taken suddenly ill on the Bates road east of town the morning before, while on his return from a trip to the country. He was unable to come home, but his family sent a conveyance after him. He was buried Saturday by the colored Odd Fellows, of which he had the honor of being a member. His family will receive benefits from the lodge amounting to nearly $2,000.

The entertainment to be given the Tennessee editors at Chattanooga on June 10th, will undoubtedly eclipse any thing of the kind ever given in the State. Chattanooga never half does anything—she would prefer to over do rather than half do. Her citizens are enterprising, and they know the power of the press of the country.

Roy F. Hagaman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hagaman, died three miles south of Cleveland, May 7th, 1881. Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman had only been in their new and strange home a few days before death came and laid his heavy hand upon little Roy, and the sweet promising babe was plucked and is gone. Its little life only consisted of four months, two weeks and two days. It had just begun to live when a heavenly conveyance came and carried it up to mansions of light; and it lives now in its home in the bosom of God. Dear parents your little Roy has gone to a better home and a better care. The spirit has triumphed and the little body on the sunny hill side near our beautiful city—where the morning sun throws its first kisses, is only waiting the morning of its victory and triumph; this bereavement will send back to the many friends in Mitchell.

...an, from whence the parents came, sad news. May God lay his great loving arms around the living—the parents and child, and keep them as his own, until He shall take them to himself, and the little one who has just passed on.

T. H. H.

All the sweet singers and public speakers use Consens' Honey of Tar, for it clears the voice and dispels hoarseness; one teaspoonful scatters the cobwebs in the throat more harmless and effectively than an intoxicating drink. Moreover, it is the best remedy for the world for Coughs, Colds and diseases of the throat and lungs. Price 50 cents a bottle. Use Consens' Honey of Tar.

Those Who Were Left.

The following Southern nominations were not acted upon by the Senate during the session just closed: Collectors of Customs: Thos. M. Broadwater, Vicksburg; Edward S. Castello, Nashville, Miss.; Jos. Herst, St. Mary's Fla.; Geo. Duval, United States Attorney of the Northern District of Alabama; Orlando H. Brewster, Surveyor General for Louisiana. Postmasters—Wm. Rule, Knoxville, Tenn.; T. R. Morgan, Palaski, Tenn.; Thos. H. Prince, Galatin, Tenn.; Julia P. Woodfolk, Jackson Tenn.; Francis M. Hobbs, Eunice, Texas; W. A. Elliott, Clarksville, Texas; and J. B. Williamson, Marshall, Texas.

San Deard, col. shot and killed James West, col., in Chattanooga Saturday night. Cause—both loved the same girl.

"Women Never Think."

If the crabbled old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perfect health, at a more modest expense, he would be forced to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Pennyman.

NOTICE TO LAND OWNERS.

Having been appointed Agent for the counties of Bradley and Polk, by the State Commissioner of Agriculture, Statistics, Mines and Immigration to procure descriptive lists of lands for SALE, LEASE OR RENT, I would respectfully request all persons who have lands for sale, and wish to have them registered in the Tennessee Bureau of Agriculture, Statistics, Mines and Immigration, to call at my office or write for full information.

Registered lands will be extensively advertised by the Bureau in the Northern and Eastern States, and in Europe.
